FROSH TO ELECT TODAY

PIERCE ANNOUNCES WITHDRAWAL FROM RACE

The freshmen elections today will be a one party affair with the newly formed Armstrong Democratic Club pitting its candidates against the independent candidates.

The ADC is backed by the Independent Party, winners in the recent sophomore election, and according to Tommy Dillon, an ADC spokesman, it is not a subversive movement but an open campaign to get the freshmen votes for those whom they believe are the best candidates.

The ADC candidates are Bert Jones, Mr. Dillon, Anne Brown, and Robert Hornstein.

All other candidates are strictly independent. Joe Magee, president of the Terrapin club, stated that the Terrapin club is not backing any candidates in the freshmen elections just as they didn't back any candidates in the recent sophomore election.

Bob Pierce, freshman candidate for president, has withdrawn from the race and has announced that he will back Jack Hudson. Mr. Pierce also criticized the ADC for not presenting a platform as is the custom of all organized political groups.

Voting will be between 10am and 3pm today in the office adjoining Mr. Beecher's office. For election results look for the Inkwell election Extra that will carry the results of the voting. It will be distributed late this afternoon.

Inkwell Staff meeting today at 2:30pm. All staff members and all students taking journalism are urged to be there (room 203).

JENKINS, STEPHENS TO APPEAR BEFORE STUDENTS WEDNESDAY

Herschel V. Jenkins, chairman of the Armstrong Commission, will formally install the freshmen and sophomore class officers along with the officers of the three student publications at the Wednesday assembly.

Judge Hugh Stephens will make a brief address to the assembly and certificates of office will be presented to each of the officers by Mr. Jenkins. Judge Stephens and Mr. Jenkins will be introduced by Foreman M. Hawes, President of Armstrong Junior College.

Students receiving certificates of office will be, sophomore officers, Mark Steadman, Mary Conway, Peggy Worrill and John Allred, the freshmen officers whose names will be made known this afternoon and the following officers of the student publications, Ross Stemer, Jean Hancock and Clark Blanton of the Inkwell, Catherine Lankenau, David Bergrin and Murray Silver of the Geechee, and Eleanor Rich, Millicent Melaver and Baxter McCreery of the Mercury.

It will be the first time in the history of Armstrong that formal installation of student officers will take place.

SHRIMP SUPPER PLANNED

A gala shrimp supper will be held on Saturday, October 23rd at Redmond's Bar-B-Q (three miles post on Waters road) at 8:00 pm. The affair is being sponsored by the Terrapin club and all AJC students are urged to attend. A $1.25 ticket will entitle one to all he can eat and drink.

CONCERNING SCHOOL POLITICS

Armstrong students have adapted a poll towards election of officers that is by no means a correct method of benefiting the school or the students of the school and to me seems to be very undemocratic for a student body that is attending school to learn democracy and how it works.

Under this system of "block" voting the students are voting for the party rather than the individual and are not taking into consideration the personal qualities of the candidates.

Some of the individuals of the party may have good ideas but the party has no platform or definite policies.....just a slate of officers.

I think that this system is depriving Armstrong of its best talent, and will hinder the college in its progress.

..... Joe Ward

( editor's note..... this article is the opinion of Mr. Ward and does not necessarily reflect the stand taken by the Inkwell staff.)

INKWELL TO CONDUCT POLL

The citizens of our nation will have to wait until November before their choice for the President of the United States is made known, whereas students of Armstrong will have an opportunity to make their choice known on Wednesday, October 20th.

This is being made possible through a straw vote to be conducted by the Inkwell staff. Ballots containing the names of the party candidates will be used and they will be similar to those used in the official election.

The poll will be conducted in front of Mr. Beecher's office and votes may be cast from 10am to 12 noon. Voting is open to all students and faculty members and everyone is encouraged to vote as conscientiously as though they were actually casting their vote in the national election.

Should the results coincide with those of the national election the class of '52 may be able to predict the outcome of the national election that year by inferring "As goes Armstrong, so goes the nation".

Have you???? seen Mr.

Politzer use his own bicep when demonstrating to his Biology 11 classes a muscle that will flex..... heard about the co-eds that were watching the Eager Beaver-Terrapin football game last Thursday...wonder if it will become a permanent thing..... heard about the math student who remarked that he had learned to add in the third grade after the instructor had spent all period explaining.....heard about the girl in English 21 who called her instructor, "Mr. Romeo".....wonder how true it is.....tried to get through that male bloc on the front steps..... or the female bloc on the hall stairs..... Noticed how the bright flames of last year aren't even flickering now.....seen a girl in tennis getting the big head after being hit by a racket.....noticed those snazzy signs advertising the shrimp supper.....heard about the English king who switched to Calvert in the 15th century.....laughed at the story about the AJC student who while falling down the Armstrong Building stairs collided with a co-ed...after they reached the bottom the dazed girl was still sitting on his chest. Looking up at her he said politely, "Madam, this is as far as I go"..... wonder what made Anne Kimberly fall all over herself in Political Science....could it have been Mr. Campbell's personality....

The psychology class did fail,

It really was a sad sad tale;

On intelligence tests

They made a big mess

That made them all feel like HALE .....

SCIENCE CLUB MEETS THURSDAY

The AJC Science Club will meet this Thursday night at 8pm in a Gamble Hall classroom. All those interested are urged to attend.

FACULTY FACES

by Marianne Boblasky and Harriet Bobalski

Mr. Louis Zahn is that new faculty member with the red hair. He was born in Santa and attended school there. He has a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Emory University and has received a certificate from the University of Mexico. This December, when he completes a thesis he will receive his M. A. in French and Spanish from Emory.

Mr. Zahn has taught before, a year at Emory, and he is not married.

Mr. Charles E. Howard, the new English instructor here at Armstrong, was born in Troy Alabama in 1922 and attended grammar and high school there. At the beckon of Uncle Sam Mr. Howard joined the Army Air Force and became a gunner on a B-17. He was stationed at Hunter Field before going overseas. The last few months of his military career were spent in a German Prison camp.

Mr. Howard attended Alabama State Teachers College and received his B.S. from Peabody. He held his first teaching assignment at Alabama State. Mr. Howard is happily married and likes living in Savannah very much.

INTERESTING PROGRAM PLANNED FOR HOME ECONOMICS MEET THIS WEEKEND

INTRA-MURALS NOW IN PROGRESS

The intramural football league got under way last week. The Terrapins and Eager Beavers, rated as the top two teams in the league, got things off to a thrilling start last Thursday when they played to a six-six tie. Hayes to Powell was the Beaver scoring combination, the tally coming early in the game. In the second half Goldbold tossed to Hecker for the Terrapin tally.

The game featured a lot of pass interceptions with Alferis and Harrison of the Beavers doing most of the snatching. Big Bob Strozier of the Beavers and Duck Baker of the Terrapins were the outstanding linemen of the day. Alferis of the Beavers made one of the longest runs of the day in the second period on a pass interception.

The Scholars and Loafers postponed a game Wednesday and will probably play it off at a later date. The Loafers and Gators are scheduled to play on Friday but as this article is put to press before then it is impossible to print the results of that game.

A little sports chatter.....

If you want to see some exciting football games, come out to Forsyth park and watch the intramural teams in action. These contests provide plenty of thrills and are well worth seeing..... Bill Pulliam and Pete "Cookie" Hanson training hard for the coming Cracker Boxing Tournament.... Still wondering if girls are going to form cheerleader squad for the intramural games..... Jimmy Owens, spokesman for the Gators urges that all freshmen that desire to play in the league and that haven't joined a team please come to the aid of the Gator's cause..... Player of the week.... Hoyt Powell of the Eager Beavers.

AJC BASKETEERS MAKE READY TO DEFEND STATE CROWN

The Armstrong Junior College "Geckes", winners of the state junior college basketball championship last year have begun practice. The boys will practice three nights a week and on Saturday morning for the next few weeks. A call for new candidates for the team will be sent out some time this week and all boys that have any basketball ability are urged to report for practice.

NEW BRIDGE RULES

For all of you real sports fans here is a list of some new bridge rules that may help you the next time you undertake participation in that rugged sport.

(1) Always pick up your cards as they're dealt so you'll know what you've got before the others do.

(2) Always trump your partner's ace since you don't know whether or not you can trust her.

(3) Always eat sticky candy while playing, you sometimes get more cards than the others.

(4) If your partner bids first, raise him since he will have to play the hand and you can relax.

(5) Occasionally ask what trump is, it will show that you are interested in the game.

(6) Whenever you are the dummy, always get up and walk around the table and talk about the other players' hands.

(7) Grumble if you get a bad hand, it will let your partner know that you don't have a good hand if he is planning on bidding.

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR PICTURE MADE

A.D.C. WINS!

LESS THAN HALF OF FRESHMEN VOTE

by Jean Hancock

Yesterday, in a very orderly election, the candidates backed by the Armstrong Democratic Club of the freshman class ran away with all freshman offices and senate positions by a landslide vote.

The election results are as follows:

For president:	Jack Hudson	12
	Bert Jones	117
For vice-pres:	C.M. Adams	24
	V. Billingsley	17
	Joan Conner	16
	Tommy Dillon	70
For secretary:	Anne Brown	87
	Frank Stapleton	5
	Eve Strong	15
	Monica Ulivo	21
For treasurer:	Jim Holland	17
	Robert Hornstein	64
	Bill Pulliam	18
	Louis Sluder	3
	Claire Zipplies	27
For senate:	Charles Collins	11
	Robert Ellison	21
	Forney Nelson	47
	Billy O'Hayer	82
	Harriet Schleunig	90

Balloting was not as brisk as that of the sophomores was. Only 129 out of 215 freshmen voted. However the definite majority of the winners shows that the students are behind them.

STUDENT IDENTIFICATION CARDS admitting students to all college functions including athletic events, plays, etc., will be distributed to all students who have paid their student activity fees on Friday from 9 to 1 in the morning, and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon at the counter just outside of Mr. Beecher's office, F. M. Brannen, school business manager announced yesterday.
